Sermon Notes Are You Wrapped? Luke 2.22-40

31 December 2017 1st Sunday after Christmas

May God who gathers us around Himself in the Word and Sacrament to bless us with His forgiveness this morning be your source of comfort, strength and renewal as you worship today. In the Name of Christ, we are all called to come and hear that the Lord is Good!

Our Gospel reading is Luke 2.22-40 our response is, “Praise be to thee, O Christ” spoken in unity aloud.

Call to Worship: Psalm 111

Hymns: Opening #181 Prayer #180 Closing #215

At the presentation of our offerings we sing the Doxology # 668

The family of Calvin Ashwell would like to thank the congregation of The Well for their cards, visits and support during Calvin’s illness and his death. We also want to thank you for the reception following the memorial service. Carolyn, Chris and the Grandchildren.

We will be “un-decorating” the sanctuary today for all those who are able to stay after the service and help. Thanks.

All the Men of the Church are invited to a Dinner and a Movie this Wednesday night. We will meet at 5:30 at Steak and Shake and then go over to Venue Cinemas by 6:30. Any questions, call Dave Gardner.

This Thursday, at both the 10:30am and 7:00pm times, Pr. Tom will be giving a quick overview of our church – what we believe, why we worship the way we do, and how we see membership. There will be lots of time for your questions! This is in preparation for our Covenant Renewal Service on January 7th. Which is the Baptism of Our Lord Sunday.

Pr. Tom is making his personal offer again for any who read the entire bible in the coming year – a free meal at a very nice restaurant! If you have any questions or need a reading plan, please let him know. To read it through entirely, only takes about 20 minutes a day! Let's do it!
